Resonate

Listen - can you hear it?
Every heart pulsing with life.
Every wave pounding against the shore.
Every stone resounding in stillness.

The sound echoes through the whole of creation (Psalm 19:1). All reverberating with the voice of a Creator who calls from the depth of the ocean to the edge of the universe (Isaiah 41:9).

He's calling to you. His call resonates with the deepest places in you, because it was his voice that spoke you into being before the foundations of the Earth (Ephesians 1:4). Every breath that you take is an echo of this relentless love-call, this story that he's telling.

At AOYC 2019, we'll tune our lives to this frequency. We'll echo the songs of supernovas and seashores, offering a relentless cry of "Holy, Holy!". His heartbeat will reverberate through us - sending ripples of the rhythm of love and justice in action.
